Volunteer Projects 2024

Information Sheet

Programs Around Iceland

General Information

WORKCAMP PROJECT LOCATIONS

“Iceland is a country of extreme geological contrasts. With one of the most geologically and volcanically active landscapes in the world, while being home to the largest glaciers in Europe. Iceland is also the land of light and darkness. Long summer days with nearly 24 hours of sunshine are offset by short winter days with only a few hours of daylight.”

EDUCATIONAL OFFICER

MID-TERM-VOLUNTEER PLACEMENT DESCRIPTION

SHORT DESCRIPTION

If you'd like to work with a variety of young people (and possibly with some adults) and you care with passion about the environment and want to make this a better world, being an Education Officer could be for you. It's a great role if you want to work in education, but outside the formal setting of a school or college.

Your main activity will be putting together programs of age-appropriate and curriculum-related activities. As part of our daily activities, we provide environmental-related workshops to all our participants.

WHAT DOES AN EDUCATIONAL OFFICER DO?

You will work closely with groups of people (teenagers, young adults, or society groups) that come onto the site for educational trips, to promote the organization's philosophy and build knowledge through a series of workshops. Learning outside the classroom can be a great way to engage young adults to understand and apply their learning in a real-world context.

ACTIVITIES

Iceland is at the forefront of renewable energy production, and nearly every home in the country is supplied with heating and energy from renewable energy sources. According to the Environmental Performance Index, created by the World Economic Forum in 2012, Iceland is the world's greenest country. This is one of the reasons volunteers choose this beautiful country for their volunteer program. During your stay, you will be researching this and many more topics.....

Your main activity is to develop a curriculum program for environmental education through talks, workshops, activities, courses, meetings, and visits. Update and maintain educational resources and material. Provide workshops to the workcamps remotely or on-site daily. All material created during the program will be used by WF.

The work for the majority of the workcamps depends on the weather conditions, when unsuitable to be outdoors, you will be requested to provide activities or workshops for the group. Working as a team under the supervision of the Project Manager of the organization. You will travel around Iceland, as our houses are located in various sites across the island. We're all about flexibility: we expect you to adapt to changes quickly and we encourage you to try new things.

Working hours may vary depending on the workcamps and the organization's needs. However, you will have 2 days off per week. And will be able to discover Iceland's unique sites.

When required by the organization you will be required to lead camps, welcome participants, and/ or explain the program to the groups.

SOCIAL MEDIA & JOURNALISM OFFICER

MID-TERM-VOLUNTEER PLACEMENT DESCRIPTION

SHORT DESCRIPTION

As the Social Media Manager you will help to establish WF's online presence, promote our brand value, programs and philosophy through the use of videos, photos, infographics, or text posts on social media platforms.

Manage our monthly magazine, UNA, where people can read about the organization's life and diverse environmental issues written by our participants.

ACTIVITIES IN SOCIAL MEDIA

We are looking for a talented Social Media Manager to administer our social media accounts. You will be responsible for creating original text and video content, managing posts, and responding to followers. You will manage our company image in a cohesive way to achieve our marketing goals.

As a Social media manager, we expect you to be up-to-date with the latest digital technologies and social media trends. You should have excellent communication skills and be able to express our company's views creatively.

Ultimately, you should be able to handle our social media presence ensuring high levels of web traffic and customer engagement.

Your activities include, but are not limited to;

- Develop, implement, and manage our social media strategy.
- Define the most important social media KPIs
- Update social media content across all channels
- Engage with customers and followers
- Using social media marketing tools
- Monitor campaigns and analyzing data obtained
- Establish relationships with social media influencers to develop a strong network
- Manage and oversee social media content
- Ensure content is informative and appealing
- Keep an eye on social media trends
- Create a photo database from all workcamps

ACTIVITIES IN JOURNALISM

As a leader you will guide the camp in the development and creation of the organization's magazine, focusing on an Environmental theme. This is a great opportunity to get creative! The design will depend entirely on you and the group, following our guidelines and requirements. The magazine consists of 2 parts: firstly the articles, written by the camp and the second part is about their experience in Iceland. The group will take photos, create videos and conduct interviews with volunteers, local hosts, and people living in the area. The outcome will be published in the UNA WF magazine. You are also encouraged to promote social activities with the local community and the organization.

The participants will create the magazine from top to bottom, choosing the design, photos, and articles; Picking the Topic, Choosing the cover article, Pictures/Interviews, Write body articles, Find the cover image, Design of masthead, Incorporate graphics, and Decide on feature articles, Create a table of contents, A personal note from camp.

GENERAL INFORMATION

You will work as a team under the supervision of the Project Manager & Director of WF.

You will travel around Iceland, as our houses are located at various sites across the island. We're all about flexibility: we expect you to adapt to changes quickly and we encourage you to try new things. Working hours may vary depending on the workcamps and the organization's needs. However, you will have 2 days off per week. And will be able to discover Iceland's unique sites.

When required by the organization you will be required to lead camps, welcome participants into the program, and/or explain the program to the groups.

Main Project Activities: Journalism & Social Media. Improve the environmental education and consciousness of the projects' participants.

Tasks: coordinate the work, organize house schedule, and leisure activities, shop, supervise cooking sessions and plan excursions. Organize Workshops. Apart from these additional responsibilities, you will participate in general activities as volunteers. Projects are organized with international volunteers.

Please note that this project is a learning/exchange project where everyone is expected to contribute their own knowledge and experience, and not a standard work camp.

CONTENT COPYRIGHTS

You retain your rights to your photographs; however, by accepting this position, you grant Worldwide Friends (and those authorized by the organization) a royalty-free, world-wide, perpetual, non-exclusive license to publicly display, distribute, reproduce and create derivative works of your visual work taken/created while in the program, in whole or in part, in any media now existing or later developed, for any purpose, including, but not limited to, advertising and promotion, exhibition, and commercial products (this includes any sales of products utilizing the photograph), including but not limited to Worldwide Friends publications. Any photograph reproduced will include a photographer credit as feasible. Worldwide Friends will not be required to pay any additional consideration or seek any additional approval in connection with such uses.

DATA MANAGEMENT OFFICER

MID-TERM-VOLUNTEER PLACEMENT DESCRIPTION

SHORT DESCRIPTION

We ask volunteers to not only help us remove the trash and litter from our environment, but to take it one step further and track the types and amount of items they're finding.

Beyond sheer tonnage of trash removed, and probably more importantly, we feel that cleanups are the gateway for volunteers and people of all walks of life to become aware of the issue and feel empowered to take action. Through data collection, the experience for the volunteer in tracking item by item, what they find, creates a moment of reflection that is truly invaluable.

WORK

A beach clean-up is also an opportunity to gather new data about the state of our coasts and the types of trash that pollutes them. By identifying the most harmful debris items, environmental groups can find ways to stop them from entering the ocean or being littered again on beaches

This data is hugely important as it helps us track the common items we find on our beaches and then campaign for change. This evidence is used to lobby Governments for legislative change, as well as to influence industry practices and to drive campaigns that lead to changes in individual behaviour.

During our high peak season your main activities will be gathering information from the Beach Cleanings from all the camps;

- Lead the Beach Cleanings
- Gather the daily data from Beach Cleaning
- Review current data collection methods
- Improve our recycling process
- Generate data visualization products, including dashboards, infographics, and maps
- Preparing and presenting communication materials
- Design data collection tools
- Enhance collaboration among the various organizations that carry out beach cleans
- Assist in preparing the data reports

You will travel around Iceland, as our houses are located at various sites across the island. We're all about flexibility: we expect you to adapt to changes quickly and we encourage you to try new things.

Working hours may vary depending on the workcamps and the organization's needs. However, you will have 2 days off per week. And will be able to discover Iceland's unique sites.

Desired Profile: 25 years old + Science Background
Open to creative ideas/known risks, is pragmatic problem solver, makes improvements

A driving Licence is essential.

Linguistic skills: A Intermediate to Upper-Intermediate level of English is required. Other languages are seen as an advantage.

Skills and competencies: Our leaders have to be Positive and Highly Motivated. Proactivity and Organizational skills are a must. Time-management skills and ability to work under time pressure during high peaks of the season.

Documents to be submitted: CV. Recommendations Letters. Motivation Letter. Driver License. Passport or ID.

GENERAL INFORMATION

ACCOMMODATION AND FOOD

Participants will be staying in the houses of Worldwide Friends. Leaders will share a double and quadruple room. The houses are fully equipped with several dormitories each. Each house has fully equipped kitchens, several bathrooms, common areas, workshop rooms, and galleries. Volunteers need to bring their own sleeping bags, but beds and sheets are provided. Wireless internet access is provided free of charge.

Food is included for the duration of your stay; however, everyone is expected to do their fair share of the cooking and cleaning. Since it is always nice to try new and different dishes, volunteers are encouraged to bring along their favorite recipes from home! We encourage our volunteers to try vegan and vegetarian food during their stay with us.

We provide a well-balanced and healthy variety of food products that includes a wide variety of whole grains, seasonal fruits & vegetables, pantry staples, dairy products, vegetarian/vegan options. We try to reduce our carbon footprint on the planet by cutting down our meat intake and we usually encourage volunteers to try more sustainable dishes.

We do not provide soft drinks, alcohol, or candies. However, we will provide the ingredients for you to bake delicious snacks! As we bake our own bread feel free to bring any golden crust recipes from home!.

Please let us know if you have any food allergies or special dietary needs in advance.

GETTING AROUND

If the camp requires to be somewhere, for work purposes, it will only be drive-by WF Staff.

The cars at the house are not meant to be used to drive around. They are in the house for work, previously planned excursions discussed with WF staff, and in case of emergencies.

Note: the cars are not meant to be used for personal reasons.

Location of Workcamps

Workcamp	Address
Krýsuvík	Krysuvik 220, Hafnarfjörður
Brú	Þjóðvegur, Iceland
Siglufjörður	Suðurgata 4, 580 Siglufjörður
Farm	Úlfarsfellsvegur, Reykjavík, Iceland

TIME OFF

We will also make sure you have to time off, we all need to recharge our batteries as it can get overwhelming.

During your free days, you can stay at our accommodations or travel around. Keep in mind that food, accommodation, or transportation is not provided or paid for while you are traveling during your free time.

WF will pay for all domestic travel expenses related to workcamps. This includes transportation from your project base to the camp and from the camp back to your project. In most cases, you will take the minibus together with workcamp participants. All other travel expenses, such as coming to Reykjavík on the weekends, will be covered by yourself and not the organization.

LEISURE

Weekends are free, however, you will still need to be around. Try to plan activities with the volunteers. Usually, the excursions take place during the weekends. Excursions include unique Icelandic sights, such as waterfalls, volcanic and geothermal areas, glaciers, lava forests, hot springs, rhyolite mountain ranges, steam vents, or even icebergs;

You can check out all the excursion descriptions available for each camp on our website (<https://wf.is/excursions/>)

The areas around the houses are also great for hiking. If volunteers want to go for a hike, make sure one of the camp leaders joins them. Remind the volunteers to share their plans in advance.

The areas around the houses are also great for hiking. Plan ahead, share your travel plans, stay on the trail, properly dispose of waste, leave areas as you found them, and do not approach or feed wildlife. Don't go for high and steep mountains without a professional guide.

Hiking in Iceland is as safe as anywhere else on the planet. However, that doesn't diminish how necessary it's to be aware of potential dangers while exploring the wilderness.

Do not attempt to go hiking in undesirable conditions; doing so will put you at serious risk, potentially forcing emergency services into a rescue that could have been avoided.

ON ARRIVAL TRAINING

Leaders will receive guidance in how to plan, organize and lead the projects, including topics as group management, conflict resolution, bookkeeping, development, leadership roles, intercultural cooperation, motivation, etc. They will also receive practical information about planning a project, spare time activities, first aid, etc.

ICELANDIC WEATHER

All of our trips and outdoor activities are dependent on weather and general conditions. Please keep in mind that Iceland is and will always be Iceland. The weather changes fast on our northern island and with it, conditions change, therefore we have to be flexible.

AIRPORT

Intl. Airport: Keflavík (KEF), Reykjavík.

Flights arrive at Keflavik International Airport (KEF), just south of Reykjavik.

AROUND REYKJAVIK

You can pay for the bus by using the app on your smartphone (Strætó), which connects to your card, or by paying cash on the bus. Now, keep in mind that you need to pay the exact amount because the driver won't give out change.

INSURANCE

Veraldarvinir provides a third-party liability during the duration of the camp. WF Iceland does not provide volunteers with medical insurance.

We strongly advise buying additional insurance for the duration of your stay in Iceland. If you decide to do that, please make sure to bring along your insurance card, as well as all relevant phone numbers. It is always a good idea to leave a copy of the insurance details and phone numbers at home.

Moreover, if your country of origin is part of the European Union, please bring your European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) with you, as this will entitle you to healthcare services in Iceland.

PASSPORTS, VISAS & REGULATIONS

Citizens from many countries do not require a visa to visit Iceland for up to three months, so long as their passport is valid for more than six months after their planned arrival date. For more detailed information on visas, please visit: <http://www.utl.is/index.php/en/visa> Iceland is widely known as "The Land of Fire and Ice" and the extreme contrasts in Icelandic nature are a huge part of the appeal...

Electricity: Iceland uses 240V, 50Hz AC electricity. Plugs have round pins with either two or three prongs; electrical appliances fitted with overseas plugs need an adaptor.

Mobile: If you need to use your mobile phone in Iceland, please ask your service provider, if they offer phone coverage in Iceland, and request to be upgraded to international roaming, if possible. You might also consider buying an Icelandic SIM-card, if your service provider does not offer coverage in Iceland.

SWIMMING POOLS

When preparing for your trip to Iceland there is one item you are going to want to be sure to pack. Your bathing suits!

A visit to one of the geothermal pools in Iceland is an activity you won't want to miss.

Part of the culture since the earliest settlements, the pools in Iceland are more than a place to go for a swim. They are a part of life for Icelanders of all ages. No matter the time of year, or how small or remote the town is, you can almost guarantee you will find a local pool to enjoy. A visit to the swimming pools is a great way to experience the local culture.

Before entering the pool or hot tubs in Iceland, it's important that you shower without clothes and wash thoroughly with soap. If you don't want to shower naked, you may wear your swimsuit in the shower but then you may not enter the pool or the hot tub!

Swimwear must be clean. If you have been swimming in the sea wearing your swimsuit, you may not enter the pool wearing it without washing it first.

Cameras and cell phones are not allowed in the dressing or the pool area. So don't take them with you or leave them in your bag when entering the changing rooms.

BANKS & EXCHANGE

Iceland has three banks – Íslandsbanki, Landsbanki Íslands and Arion Banki. Normally, banking hours are from Monday to Friday from 9:15 a.m. to 4 p.m., although some locations in Reykjavík have longer hours. Branches can be found all around the country, even in many single-street villages. Most locations have an ATM, often located in a weatherproof lobby that can be accessed outside of normal banking hours.

Credit cards are widely used in Iceland for just about everything (even for buying hot dogs!). MasterCard and Visa are major brands, valid not only for shopping but also for cash advances over the counter in all banks and a few of the larger post offices. In order to rent a car or fill up a tank at most gas stations outside Reykjavík, you will need a credit card.

All banks have similar commissions for foreign exchange transactions. Outside banking hours, you can also try major hotels or The Change Group, which has three branches in Reykjavík and one in Akureyri – rates, however, are poor and commissions high in both cases.

Travelers' cheques can be purchased prior to travel through banks and travel agents. This is the safest way to carry your funds around. They can be cashed in at all Icelandic banks and many hotels and replaced if lost or stolen – just keep a list of the serial numbers separate from the cheques.

TRAVELLING & TRANSPORT

The small area of Iceland makes traveling easy, at least during warmer months. You can either take a flight or catch a bus from Reykjavík to all major centers of the island. In summer, there are even scheduled buses that drive through the highland interiors. It is also easy to rent a car in, order to see parts of Iceland that buses don't cover.

Whether you're planning on taking a bus trip around the country, hiring a car or hitchhiking, you'll probably spend a good deal of time on Route 1, called Hringvegur (the Ringroad). It largely follows the coast in a 1,500 km circuit around the country via Reykjavík, Akureyri and Egilsstaðir. Most of the Ringroad is paved. However, while areas around towns might be paved, most Icelandic roads are gravel roads. Some of these are perfectly decent, although bumpy, while many others – such as roads through the interior – are only navigable in high-clearance 4-wheel-drive vehicles.

Please note that the interior roads are open only between June and August: the exact opening and closing dates of roads, or whether some open at all, depend largely on the weather. You can check the current road conditions anywhere in Iceland by logging on to www.vegag.is, a regularly updated website in English and Icelandic that shows maps of the country with color-coded roads according to their current status.

CAR RENTALS

The most popular way to get around in Iceland is by car, there are no trains in Iceland so the other options are buses, flights, taxis, or private drivers. The main road in Iceland is called Hringvegurinn or the Ring Road and lies along the coast around the island, except for the Westfjords.

WF does not recommend renting a car, we offer many excursions that take you all around the island. Driving in Iceland is quite atypical due to extreme weather conditions. The Road Traffic Directorate of Iceland prepared a video on How to Drive in Iceland and we recommend watching it. Click

FLIGHTS

Iceland's international airport is Keflavik (KEF), located 45 minutes south of Reykjavik by bus. Several airlines operate out of Keflavik, including the national carrier IcelandAir. Information on other airlines can be found at www.isavia.is/en/keflavik-airport/flight-schedule/airlines

The main domestic carrier is Flugfélag Íslands, that flies all year round almost daily from Reykjavík to Vestmannaeyjar, Ísafjörður, Akureyri, Egilsstaðir and Höfn (Hornafjörður).

Other airlines operating flights from Reykjavík and Akureyri concentrate on connections to more remote settlements in the northwest and northeast of Iceland. Íslandsflug is the largest of these operators, even offering combined air-and-land tours for the duration of 1 or more days from Reykjavík to various popular spots: Húsavík for whale watching, Mývatn for the lake and nearby hotspots and Vestmannaeyjar for puffins and more volcanoes.

Booking flights in Iceland is easy. However, please note that bad weather conditions may result in cancellations on short notice. It is also recommended to book ahead for summer weekends and holidays, as seats fill up quickly.

BUSES

Buses are the most convenient way to cover a large part of Iceland. Iceland's umbrella organization of long-distance bus lines, BSÍ (www.bsi.is), based at the bus station in Reykjavík, publishes a comprehensive timetable of scheduled departures and tours run by various companies. Between May and October, scheduled services cover the entire Ringroad and many other routes, with regular tours tackling interior destinations once the roads open between June and August.

Taking these bus trips is sometimes the only way to see many remote places unless you have considerable off-road driving experience and the right vehicle. On the downside, traveling by bus can be expensive, considering the relatively small distances involved.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

The public buses in Iceland are called Strætó and you will recognize them by the yellow color. If you are staying in

Reykjavík you can buy a 1-3 day city pass. Strætó also travels to the main places around the country and you can check out their schedule at <https://www.straeto.is/en>

You can pay by using the app on your smartphone (Strætó), which connects to your card, or by paying cash on the bus. Now, keep in mind that you need to pay the exact amount because the driver won't give out change.

EMERGENCIES

Iceland provides first-rate healthcare and emergency services. There are hospitals or healthcare in every major town in Iceland as well as pharmacies, called Apótek in Icelandic.

Just in case you need assistance during your stay in Iceland it's a good idea to make note of the Icelandic emergency number is 112 (police, fire, and ambulance)

Remember the most important thing is to use common sense, follow safety warnings, remember the emergency number 112 and enjoy your stay in Iceland!

ABOUT WORLDWIDE FRIENDS

THE ORGANIZATION

Worldwide Friends Iceland (WF) was founded in 2001 as a non-governmental, non-profit organization promoting nature and peace-oriented activities among people interested in spending time in Iceland as volunteers.

The main activities offered by WF Iceland are workcamps, exchange programs, and educational seminars.

Veraldarvinir's main aim is to increase intercultural understanding by offering foreign volunteers the opportunity to take part in nature and peace-related activities.

For volunteers coming to Iceland, such projects will give them a unique opportunity not only to explore and directly interact with Iceland's unique culture and landscape but also work with other international volunteers and local residents in challenging and unfamiliar contexts.

GLOBAL WARMING

This year "Global Warming" is our main theme throughout our different work camps. The volunteers will have workshops and group discussions about the theme. Humanity must act in a more environmentally friendly way. The main goal of this project is to improve the environmental education and consciousness of the projects' participants.

Within the project, we will learn and write about green energy, sustainable householding, waste treatment, and how you can help reduce global warming. Taking part in this promising project and spring into action.

VERALDARVINIR/WF ICELAND AIMS AT:

- Promoting peace and friendship
- Promoting intercultural learning and awareness
- Preserving Icelandic nature and raising awareness about environmental issues
- Promoting voluntary work and a culture of volunteering
