Tell me more...

The Truth or Dare project tackles the subject of media literacy and its effects on our day to day life.

The project will bring together 30 young people, 6 participants from each participant country.

Media content is all around us and people consume it almost non-stop in different forms. Understanding the impact of media on our everyday behaviour, thinking and lives is crucial.

What will we do?

- Group bonding activities
- Storytelling based activities where to develop communication and public speaking skills
- Improvise theater and role-playing activities
- Use of digital applications and online tools such as Kahoot, Mentimeter, Reverse image search, SpeakPic
- Escape room concept combined with elements of nature
- Learning by doing activities

Truth or Dare project welcomes young people who:

are aged between 22 and 27, resident in one of the participant countries

are interested in the subject of media
literacy and fake
news

are ready to explore outside of your bubble, have open conversation
and have fun at the same time

speak medium level of English and you are ready to engage in an international group

are willing to be an active participant
and give your attention and time
during the project

Your guides

Hi there! I am Şerban, a people's person, an ex EVS and AIESEC passionate about acting, theatre and stories. I am a non-formal education and personal development enthusiast and I facilitated multiple activities and youth exchanges. I learned that it is cheaper to go to a psychologist than not going to, but even cheaper and more powerful to start being aware of my mental health and wellbeing.

Aloha! I am Madalina, a strong believer in experiential learning and in creating an inclusive and safe space where each person can explore and develop themselves.

I first came in contact with the Erasmus world six years ago and ever since I have invested in my own education and development and I am eager to share my experience and knowledge.

I love improv theatre, dancing and cats.
