Descrizione

The unprecedented situation with the COVID-19 pandemic is being taken seriously and in solidarity by the European Union. Many measures have been taken and several others are being implemented of tackling this pandemic. Solidarity and unity are at the very core of what the European Union stands for, so we must remember our common values that will be crucial in rebuilding Europe after Covid-19. So our group is very motivate to participate in ESC and promote the core EU values of solidarity, respect, tolerance, peace, human rights, democracy and volunteering. "Agro-culture Volunteers" is a group ESC project focuses on the participation of young people in two spheres: non-formal learning and mobility and youth policies at the local level. The project promotes active participation and European citizenship through volunteers being involved in activities for the community, related to topics such as youth participation, training and education, sport. The project's strong intention is to boost local youth in their lives. The project will allow 30 volunteers from Italy, Spain, Greece, Latvia and Romania to be hosted for a period of 20 Day.

The project offers to volunteers the opportunity to experience the way of living in Cypriot villages by supporting, working and cooperating with the local community, by sharing their skills and knowledge. It focuses on promoting environmental and agricultural issues, intercultural exchange, and active participation in areas where it is needed. Implicating volunteers from countries other than Cyprus will enhance our goals of tolerance, acceptance, and awareness of cultural diversity leading to integration and intercultural experiences. The volunteers will mainly be involved in the following activities: working in the fields and collecting crop/fruit, learning how cider, vinegar, sweets and other food/drink products are produced from the collected crop & participating in the production process, learning about other farming processes.
